The SHADOW of the SPENDTHRIFT!

See the Spendthrift! Oh! woe betide, he throws his money from side to side, squandering, squandering, as he goes; nor stops to think as he wildly sows, of the harvest of want he will have to reap, when the aging years their shadows creep, and throw their gloom across his way, when youth has fled and his hair is gray. Oh! take this lesson to your heart dear friend, for the saving path depart, for as surely follows night the day, the spendthrift has his price to pay, for follies, and for wicked waste, the cup of rue he's forced to taste.

EXTRAVAGANCE OF THE HIGHWAY COMMISSION

There has been a great deal of comment regarding the extravagance of the State Highway commission. Definite information has been sought from all quarters but without success. Contra Costa county has had a bitter experience with this commission. Different sections have been toyed with for political purposes only, and on top of all of the jugglery that has been done, the State Highway commission is now asking the people of the state to vote another $15,000,000 for them to fritter away.

The appended article taken from a recent issue of the Humboldt Standard plainly sets forth the attitude of the public toward the highway commission, and the feeling of the people of Contra Costa toward that body in particular.

"At the banquet to the visiting newspapermen Monday evening Colonel Benjamin Maddox of Visalia urged the editors to support the proposed issue of additional state highway bonds to the amount of $15,000,000, because of the immense benefit good roads would be to the state, and he prefaced his remarks by declaring that the State Highway commission should be required to give a full, explicit, and clear exposition of what they have done with the $18,000,000, the first bond issue which they claim to have nearly expended.

"The colonel declared that he had heard rumors and counter rumors about the way in which the highways money had been manipulated, but that he had been unable to get any definite information on the subject, and that on the subject of 'overhead' expenses he had heard them estimated as high as twenty-five per cent. 'We have a right,' said the colonel, 'to have definite information on the subject and this gathering should demand it of the commission.'

"We heartily agree with the colonel in his statement that the people have a right to a clear and concise statement of how their money is spent, and that it should be demanded with emphasis. We will add that in our opinion unless it is forthcoming and is satisfactory when it appears there is no more prospect of the bonds being voted at the next election than there is for a snow storm in Yuma.

"We agree also with the distinguished gentleman from Tulare that good roads are of the utmost importance, and that politics should have absolutely nothing to do with the discussion of the bond issue. The Standard has always favored good roads, and it heartily supported the State Highway commission until it had an opportunity to observe how it managed things in Humboldt. This county tried to secure just the information that Colonel Maddox wants and which he very truthfully says the people have a right to have, but all of the readers of the Standard know how diametrically the county failed in its effort to secure that information, and how fruitless were the trips of the county auditor to Sacramento in search of the details that the people demand.

"If the statement that only four per cent of the overhead expenses of the commission are for overhead, then the commission is justice to itself should make that fact clear and should not get behind a jungle of inplelicable data and abuse of those who want to know where their money has gone. Four per cent would mean $720,000, which as the commission will have been in office less than six years when the $18,000,000 is gone, means about $10,000 a month. Certainly that looks to be plenty for overhead expenses, yet it is far less than is generally believed to have been expended.

"All that the commission needs to do, however, to prove that its four per cent statement is correct, is to give to the taxpayers of California a statement of how many contracts it has let, how much money it has paid out on them (giving name of each contract, what for, and for how much), and how much money it has left, and then deduct the amount so arrived at from the $18,000,000 and if the balance does not exceed the four per cent that statement will have been proven. Why does not the commission do this? Why does it not give out the data and information which even its friends such as Colonel Maddox, who are warm advocates of good roads and want the new issue of bonds carried, demand?

"Do not the commissioners see that they are laying themselves open to what may be very unjust suspicions? Can they not see that the people of the state are already asking why does not the commission deal frankly with us, and let us know what is the real statement of facts? If the new bond issue is defeated it will not be because the people do not want good highways, but because they have lost all confidence in those whose duty it is to build them."

THE FOOL SPEEDER

The Record-Herald has little patience with the man who regardless of the safety of himself or others drives his automobile at top speed, with the object in view, if he has any at all, of reaching his destination ahead of the other fellow, or to show off "the class" of his car. When one such comes to his final end, and they all do ultimately, we simply observe that the foolkiller has once more attended to his regular duties, and let it go at that.

The other day a man came up from Los Angeles in a machine and beat the time of the fastest express train. Another speed-burner crossed the continent lately in seven and a half days. He made the trip in one machine and claims that he has accomplished a great feat in endurance on the part of himself and the automobile. Perhaps something is proven, but the average sane man will not want to emulate his example, nor has he a machine to squander in this manner to prove something which can be of no earthly use to anybody.

The other day down on the peninsula, a speed cop arrested a driver of an automobile who was passing through the scenery at the rate of sixty miles an hour to the great danger of other drivers on the boulevard and the populace generally. The driver of the car informed the policeman that he was trying for a record and was released—which is a tip to every other fellow who is caught in the act of exceeding the speed limit.

The time is not far distant when all cars driving on the public thoroughfares must conform to rigid rules and regulations regarding speed. The drunken man and the idiot who think he should get all the speed out of his car that it can make are going to be decidedly unpopular with everybody.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.
A merciless judge in Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Richmond resident has withstood the sternest of all tests.
Mrs. James Wright, 1118 Roosevelt Ave., Richmond, says: "I was troubled by pains in the hips and joints. I was almost laid up. I got up in the morning feeling so tired, lame and worn out that it was all I could do to start my housework. My kidneys were weak and if I caught cold, it always made me feel worse. After I had used four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, all the ailments had gone and my health was fine."
OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Wright said: "I haven't had a sign of kidney complaint since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me some years ago."

Price 50¢ at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wright had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. —adv.

VOGUE OF SPOTS AND PAINTING

NEW YORK, May 29.—The "Merry Month" does not belle its reputation, and while very square blossoms out with daffodils, pansies, and jonquils, and florists' windows overflow to the walk, the world of womanhood does its freshest and prettiest and goes gaily on pleasure bent.

HAND PAINTING
 Everyone who can is having something hand painted, for the vogue for this form of decoration runs rampant and since colors are fast, it is quite as often applied to cotton frocks as to silk or crepes. Hand painted sport hats have ceased to be novel but they are still very pretty, and even more effective where the design is repeated on the garden smock that bobs up again this year with painted or patched flowers or fruit to add additional charm.

A CLEVER WOMAN

A clever woman with just a little knack with her brush and dye paints can turn a commonplace frock into a thing of individual charm and beauty, and if she so desires secure plenty of commissions from friends less skilled. An artist here has made such a success at this sort of work that she has had orders from foreign royalties, and has done an evening coat of cloth of silver for the Queen of Italy, painting blue hydrangea blossoms at just the right points. The wrap was lined with ermine and was a thing to dream of if one has a love of beautiful clothes. Everyone is familiar with painted designs on household belongings and quite the prettiest dollies that the writer ever saw were simply squares of organdie fringed a little at the edges and beautifully painted with wreaths of spring flowers—one sort on each piece—that looked as if they were done on the damask cloth. The organdie was quite invisible when placed over the linen cover.

VOGUE OF SPORTS

Spots are back in fashion, not only big polka dots but all sorts of odd oblong and diamond shapes, and since these are very characteristic foulard patterns, this old time silk is getting its innings once more. On the platform the other afternoon, a well-known singer of the Metropolitan Opera company wore a foulard dress of bright dark blue—darker than Kinga have the same possibilities; aspect blue—with an odd oriental spot of green having a white design in it. This formed only the skirt and highshaped girle. The waist was of cream lace with an over blouse of matching blue Georgette crepe delicately embroidered in green crystal beads. A black tricorn hat completed a simple but most effective costume.

LEGHORN HATS

Leghorn hats in natural tint have been worn by bridesmaids at most of the spring weddings, though at one very smart function the hats were of white horsehair and the bride's veil topped with a crown of white wheat ears in place of the usual orange blossoms, while in place of a bouquet she carried an armful of white lilacs and pink moss roses.

Watteau plaques that perch becomingly on the present shapely collure are increasingly favored for function wear, and according to their coloring and materials can be quite suitably worn by the girl or her grandmother. The streamer at the back, usually a part of the trimming of these little shapes, can be fetchingly adjusted to set off a pretty neck or conceal lines on one that needs first aid, without too apparent intention.

The tulle scarf so generally worn of late is also showing possibilities; aspect ally when adjusted "Harem" fashion twice around with the ends at either side. LUCY CARTER.

SICKNESS POSTPONES A $49 COURT SUIT

Sickness to Mrs. Rosalie Ivers, plaintiff in a civil suit for $49 was responsible for Judge John Roth continuing the case indefinitely today. Mrs. Ivers alleges Mrs. Myrtle Scherrable to owe the money for back rentals. A counter charge in which $299 is sought as damages was filed by Mrs. Scherrable against Mrs. Ivers for an attachment levied against her husband's wages.

AT THE REGENT THEATER TONIGHT

"THE TURMOIL" STARTING AT REGENT THEATER TOMORROW

There are scores of interesting and intense situations in the big five part Metro wonderplay, "The Turmoil," which will be seen here at the Regent theater tomorrow. Valli Valli, the noted star of "The Queen of the Moires," and other stage successes, is seen in the stellar role in this elaborate photodramatization of Booth Tarkington's great novel of the same name. It is easily the best role she has ever had in her successful career on the speaking stage or in the silent drama. George Le Guere, who has played the juvenile lead in half a score of stage successes, will be featured with Miss Valli in this production. There is a strong supporting cast which includes Charles H. Prince, Fred Tidmarsh, and Peggy Hopkins. Edgar Jones, who directed Miss Valli in "The Woman Pays," is also the director of this production. "The Turmoil" was produced by the Columbia Pictures Corporation for release on the Metro program.

Two other pictures will be shown. One of the popular Sis Hopkins comedies, "When Things Go Wrong," "The Castaways" episode 17, and "The Underground City" episode 18 of "The Broken Coin" will be shown tonight. Two episodes of "The Broken Coin" are exhibited every Monday night with no advance in price. The Hearst-Vitagraph News, and a Vitagraph farce, "Freddy the Fixer" are also shown. A Sis Hopkins comedy with the original Rose Melville in the lead, "She Came, She Saw, She Conquered," completes tonight's program. An unusual strong program has been arranged for tomorrow, Decoration day.

PETALUMA PEPPERS ELKS
TO 4 TO 1 DEFEAT YESTERDAY

Some day that peevish, peevish, bunch of ball tossers, with the crowing chanticleer emblazoned on their breastplates will get frisky with our Elks and lose a game. In fact they might have lost yesterday's contest but for a number of things. If Richmond had made four more runs, if Lohman, Benn and Christenson hadn't piled up five bingles; if "Artie" Benham hadn't clouted one of Fearless Charles' offerings for one of the three home runs of the day. Yep, three in one game. Not bad. Great pitcher's battle, score 4 to 1.

RALPH KELLARD IN GRIPPING DRAMA
AT RICHMOND

Ralph Kellard, known to thousands as the most popular matinee idol of the day, has deserted the speaking stage for the "movies." He is to make his photoplay debut with Dorothy Green in "Her Mother's Secret," a William Fox production tonight and tomorrow at the Richmond theater.

Mr. Kellard was at first reluctant to leave the hosts of admirers who have avidly followed his triumphs on the legitimate stage. It suddenly dawned on him, however, that no small percentage of his old friends, to say nothing of thousands of new ones, will witness his work in the unparalleled photoplays of William Fox. Hence, he decided to make the change.

Mr. Kellard is singularly well fitted for his new work. His initial movie role calls for the utmost in dramatic technique, which, by the way, he possesses in abundance through long training with such stars as David Warfield, Charlotte Walker, Frank Keenan and Virginia Hearn. Mr. Kellard achieved his early success under the management of David Belasco, wizard of stagecraft. There is every indication that he will even surpass his stage triumphs since coming under the management of William Fox, the Belasco of the photoplay.

The program will include interesting pictures from the Pathe News and the Paramount Photographs.

WILL LAUNCH
REAPER

When the Hercules Powder company first investigated the possibility of reaping kelp for potash, its representatives announced that the company would be willing to spend $5,000,000 in developing the industry if the first reaper proved successful.

The company is keeping its word and has already spent some $3,500,000 here and in San Diego. So far the operations have been confined to surveying the kelp beds for the best reaping plan and in perfecting the harvester. Three of these are already in San Diego waters.

The fourth and largest, the "Bachus," was launched on Friday evening from Dan Hanlon's Oakland yards. This dredger will be ready for the trip to San Diego about the end of this week.

So far the company has actually reaped about 3000 tons of kelp. This has produced about 60 tons of potash. As this is worth some $800 a ton, the value of the industry can be realized. The company hopes, when all the reapers are working on a definite plan, to reap nearly that much every day.

BUY A SPORT
COAT FOR $1.95

No, madam, that's not a misprint. It wasn't intended for $11.95. It means just what it says. You may find it hard to believe, but here's the reason: CHERY'S store at 515 13th street is closing out an assortment of odds and ends left over from broken lines of Sport Coats at two prices—$1.95 and $3.95. There's just a mere handful of the former, so if you want one you'll have to get it early tomorrow, of course. There probably won't be one left by noon.

The $3.95 group includes short Novelty Coats in sport effects. These are in the bright colors which so many women prefer and they're all nicely lined.

Bear in mind, CHERY'S do not guarantee to have your size in either of these specially priced assortments. Maybe your size is there, maybe not. If it is, you'll get a bargain so extraordinary that you'll wonder how in the world a store can sell such coats at such ridiculously low prices. And you can charge it.

Now make a mental note of CHERY'S address, unless you know it already, 515 13th street, Oakland.—Adv.

Lieut. Bryan U.S.N

a government expert on motor-cylinder lubrication, stated before the American Society of Naval Engineers at Washington, D. C.: "Oils made from the asphalt-base crudes have shown themselves to be much better adapted to motor cylinders, as far as their carbon-forming propensities are concerned, than are paraffine-base Pennsylvania oils."

Copy of Lieut. Bryan's full report on motor-cylinder lubrication will be sent on request.
